

Nicole's Inheritance Sale

A story for every item bought

I have a problem letting material things go without having the recipient know what it meant to me, so in my quest to purge many of my possessions, I'm having what I'm calling an Inheritance Sale. These items will become a part of someone else's life and then eventually someone else's life and then again someone else's life. It is fascinating to me how an inanimate object can hold so much emotional weight, conjure so many memories, or redirect your mood and I want to give each item a personal send off with my attached story, adding to the object's lineage of memory.

I hope you have the chance to stop by, have some iced tea and lemonade, browse, buy, or just listen to my stories. Consider it Lawn Art.

4603 Shore Acres Rd., Monona
Just off Monona Drive, then off West Dean

Friday, July 11th, 3pm-9pm
Saturday, July 12th, 10am-5pm

See back for list of sale items →

Items for Sale:

Books: art, academic, cookbooks, fiction, non-fiction, non-sense

Art: original photography, paintings, prints, rock posters (many from O'Cayz Corral, High Noon Saloon)

Clothing: Size 10-14 Women's t-shirts, pants, skirts, dresses, VINTAGE items, shoes (size 9/10), scarves, hats

Materials: wood (2x4, 6x8x8 treated), misc. hardware

Furniture: shelves, large wooden shelving unit, Verlo queen size bed, lamps

Musical: Records, tapes, cds, equipment (like-new harmonica microphone, pedals), speakers (Jamo), Peavy powered amplifier

Jewelry

Curtains (beautiful neutral linen-looking, pinch pleat), tab curtains, 130" wooden curtain rod

Fabric: all kinds, by the yard

Kitchen: pots, pans, utensils, dishes

Unusual odds and ends, art supplies

Nearly new Polaroid camera with film

MUCH MORE, TOO MANY ITEMS TO LIST

ALSO LOTS OF FREE STUFF AND THINGS!!!